

Jamie R. Adams Biography

Jamie R. Adams is the Manager of Import/Export Operations for Dell Products LP. Mr. Adams is responsible for the import activities for all of Dell's US facilities and provides guidance for international teams. He is also tasked with the management of the screening of all Dell's orders and preparation of export/import documentation. Mr. Adams manages a teams and processes in central Texas and in Penang, Malaysia.

Before joining Dell, Mr. Adams worked 8 years for Comtech EF Data Corporation in Tempe, AZ where he held a variety of positions including management of Order Entry, Sales Support, Trade Compliance, Domestic and International Logistics and Shipping along with support roles in Finance, Marketing and Contracts Management. Prior to Comtech, Mr. Adams taught high school art and art history courses in Mesa, AZ.

Mr. Adams is a fine artist (drawing and painting) and creates original works of art on paper and oil on canvas. He has works of art in private collections throughout the US and internationally. He is also a design team member for scrapbook.com and creates graphic designs, logos, and illustrations. Mr. Adams also consults collectors on the art market and has provided landscaping, architectural and interior design consulting to private and commercial clients.

As a semi-professional musician (vocalist), Mr. Adams has performed as soloist in many sacred and secular performances across the US and Canada. He donates his time as a soloist and choir director for a local Round Rock church congregation.

Mr. Adams has a Masters of Business Administration in International Business from Western International University in Phoenix, AZ. His thesis entitled, Funding for Fine Arts Organizations, focused on the corporate community's responsibility to support museums and other fine arts institutions in the US and abroad. He obtained a Bachelor's degree in Art History from Arizona State University. Mr. Adams passed the Customs Brokerage Exam in October 2006 and license application is pending.