

Optional: MATH 1342 Lab class MATH 0159

ACC has a statistics lab class each long session, taught by one of the long-time MATH 1342 teachers. It starts on Friday of the fourth week of the semester and meets on around mid-day on Fridays.

Each semester, those of my students who take the class tell me that it was very valuable to them and definitely helped them pass the course. You sign up for it like any other ACC course. The deadline for registration is around the end of the 3rd week, but I suspect it will fill up well before then.