Switch Courses

You can switch into a different The Basic Practice of Statistics, 6e course or section (remove yourself from your previously-registered course/section and enroll yourself in a different course/section) as long as your subscription to The Basic Practice of Statistics, 6e lasts. The most common reasons for needing to switch courses or sections are:

- You moved from one section or instructor to another during the same term.
- You are now enrolled in the second or third term of a multi-term course, and need to move into the course for the new term.
- You dropped a class one term and have now enrolled in the class again in a different term.

If you would like to switch courses or sections, enter your email address and password below, then choose the new course/section you'd like to enroll in from the drop down menus below. Your password will be confirmed, and if your subscription to The Basic Practice of Statistics, 6e is still valid, you will be enrolled in the new course.
