Analysis of Campus-based Services

Process Summary

An on-line version of the Internal College Survey (ICS) measuring employee responses to college-wide and campus-based services was administered in spring 2007. The purpose of the survey is to provide data to help areas improve their service. Survey responses were analyzed to determine which offices of the college were best meeting employee expectations on three dimensions: overall quality, promptness and service attitude.

Survey Development, Methodology and Administration

The original ACC Internal Customer Survey was conducted in 1996 and has been modified each year to reflect both changes in the organizational structure and improvements in the survey process. ACC employees have been surveyed typically each spring regarding their satisfaction with college services in the previous year. The survey forms have been customized each year to reflect changes to the organization structure of the college in the fall. In 2006 the ICS survey was placed on-line and the two parts of the survey, college-wide and campus, were consolidated into one survey.

In surveys conducted prior to 2006 campus-based offices were assessed by the respondent choosing the one campus they were most familiar with and then using that campus as the basis for all campus specific responses. The 2006 and 2007 on-line surveys, however, allowed respondents to rate campus-based services at each campus.

Mean scores for 2007 and 2006 were calculated and are reported for campus offices. Internal College Survey reports prior to 2006 combined very satisfied and satisfied ratings into a percent satisfied category, and dissatisfied and very dissatisfied into a percent dissatisfied category. Mean scores, however, have the advantage of being a more precise description of the data and are often easier to interpret than ratings collapsed into two broad categories of satisfied and dissatisfied.

The first table for each campus presents the mean ratings for 2007 for all three service dimensions with the offices listed in alphabetical order. The next tables then focus on overall quality, promptness and service attitude separately. For each service dimension the 2007 results are presented compared to the results for 2006 and the difference between the means is calculated. The 2007 means are also ranked as well as the mean differences. The ranking of means involves numbering the means for 2007 in descending order with a rank of “1” assigned to the highest mean. The ranking of mean differences involves the same procedure with a rank of “1” assigned to the highest positive difference between means for 2006 and 2007.

The following analysis discusses the results for overall quality (the other two service dimensions tend to track with overall quality). In interpreting the results it is also important to remember that the offices were rated on a five point scale: 1=Very Dissatisfied, 2=Dissatisfied, 3=Neutral, 4=Satisfied, 5=Very Satisfied.

¹ In 2006 Custodial Day and Night Services were combined in one office. The large decrease in mean rating between 2006 and 2007 for this campus and others may therefore be an artifact of the reorganization of the office.
