Home Page

Upon logging in, users will see a welcome screen that outlines the roles that are available to them. If users have multiple roles, they must switch roles to handle certain departments or assignment levels. This screen will change depending on the role chosen. At the top of the page, the user can find the different components available for their use. Clicking on the component name will bring up a new screen of options or the user may hover the mouse and a drop-down menu will appear.
