Working primarily with industrial products, my colorful abstract sculpture transcends its materiality by suggesting subtle movement and dynamic balance. My approach of layering simple sculptural components such as circles, arcs, and spirals permits me to create visually compelling and optically vibrating forms that invite interest and examination on the part of curious passers-by.