MyMathLab Software Use

This section of Intermediate Algebra requires the use of MyMathLab software for all homework assignments and quizzes. Using the software requires a computer and broadband internet access. These facilities are available at all ACC learning labs.

If you feel that you cannot access a computer with broadband internet frequently enough to access assignments and enter answers, you may choose to schedule a conference with me to come up with an alternative. Please answer the questions below.

Please check one of the following two options.

☐ I am able to access a computer with broadband internet at home, at the ACC learning labs, or at another location, sufficiently to complete the assignments for this class.

If you checked the first option, you are done with this form.

☐ I do not have sufficient access a computer with broadband internet, or I have special circumstances to discuss. I would like to arrange a conference to come up with a customized solution to my situation.

If you checked the second option, please finish by checking one of the following.

☐ I am available during my instructor's office hours and will visit my instructor this week.

☐ I am not able to visit during office hours, and would like to discuss my situation by email or telephone at ____________________________

If your situation changes during the semester, you may still visit your instructor in office hours to discuss a customized plan.
